150 years of product innovation have taught Toshiba research engineers one thing - just as people need technology; technology needs people. When the two work in harmony it's HUMAN CENTRIC.

The award-winning Toshiba Multi-function technology, e-STUDIO, combines this concept superbly with a suite of software solutions called e-BRIDGE.

Toshiba e-BRIDGE Solutions work for you.

With e-BRIDGE, existing hardcopy, incoming email or electronic files can be scanned, diverted and stored into searchable libraries simply and easily.

Your entire office print performance can be directly managed from your desktop. What's more, detailed graphical reporting can track usage and allow you to recover costs safely and securely.

Why not turn your invoicing into powerful colour marketing? Build and separate print jobs at will and then map your entire networked print topography to save thousands.

Want to put your bottom line in the right colour? Call Toshiba to have your people talk to our people, and put yourself in the picture.
